Greetings,

My Name is Dovydas Gulbinas, I have found your job listing on glassdoor.com. I have been working as a Python developer 3 years combined now. Those years I worked covered a diverse profile of tech companies and I learned how to use multiple tools and techniques.

Your job posting mentions that you would need for someone who could be able to automate your data collection & transformation. This is the area I accumulated lots of experience. I have written multiple web scrapers & wrote numerous automation scripts. These automation scrips were a huge time saver at my current company by making error prone deployments that took 20 minutes as easy as running a single command.

I believe I would be a great fit in your company since. I am self-driven and in my previous job did most of my tasks independently.

P.S.

I will be living at Copenhagen, Denmark after 3 of September this year.

Sincerely,

Dovydas Gulbinas
